Write about 100 to 150 words in the following topic: Describe an unusual personal experience you have had that involved a mobile phone.

It is not unusual to see people sending text messages in the middle of a film, but I had never seen anyone speaking on their mobile phones during a film until last month. I was at the cinema and a few minutes after the beginning of the film a phone rang. A man in one of the front rows picked up his phone and started talking loudly. The woman sitting behind him asked him politely to switch off the phone but he ignored her. The man was speaking loudly and laughing so he was disturbing everybody and someone else asked him to talk outside. He refused to do so until one of the ushers reminded him that the use of mobile phones during the film was forbidden.

Finally, the man stood up and left the cinema still speaking on his phone. He did not return to the film, which pleased everyone.
