

Ejercicios resueltos &gt; Short Compositions

The Compulsive Buying Disorder has become worse with the arrival of online shopping and television programmes devoted to buying goods 24 hours a day.

Planificación

- Comienza por introducir el tema sobre el que vas a escribir.
- Escribe sobre los peligros de las compras por Internet y los programas “teletienda”.
- Puedes dar tu opinión al respecto.
- Piensa en vocabulario relacionado con el tema de las compras y los medios audiovisuales: products, shoppers, spend, unnecessary, online...
- Utiliza expresiones para organizar tus ideas: therefore, in this way, so...

Write about 100 to 150 words in the following topic: The Compulsive Buying Disorder has become worse with the arrival of online shopping and television programmes devoted to buying goods 24 hours a day. Discuss.

Television and internet offer a high range of products which you can buy. Nowadays, you can purchase anything online: food, clothes, travels, cars, houses,... Therefore, compulsive shoppers do not even need to leave their homes to buy countless items but just sit in front of their computers or make a phone call to spend their money. So in a few minutes, you might have spent hundreds of euros on things you did not even want in the first place.

In this way, it is even more difficult today than it was before to overcome the temptation to buy unnecessary goods relentlessly. So I think that if the Compulsive Buying Disorder is diagnosed as an addictive illness, then internet and television programmes are extremely harmful for these people who want to recover.